A photograph of a laundry room with a warm, rustic aesthetic. The walls are made of horizontal wooden planks. A white front-loading washing machine is the central element, with its door open, revealing blue and white clothes inside. Above the machine, a white clothesline is mounted, with a white towel hanging from it. To the left of the machine, a white shelf holds two bottles of laundry detergent (one blue, one white) and a small white basket with a floral pattern. In the foreground, there are two laundry baskets: a white plastic one on the left and a brown woven one on the right, both filled with laundry. The floor is made of light-colored wood. The text 'Laundry + Bathroom' is overlaid in a cursive font on the washing machine door.
